

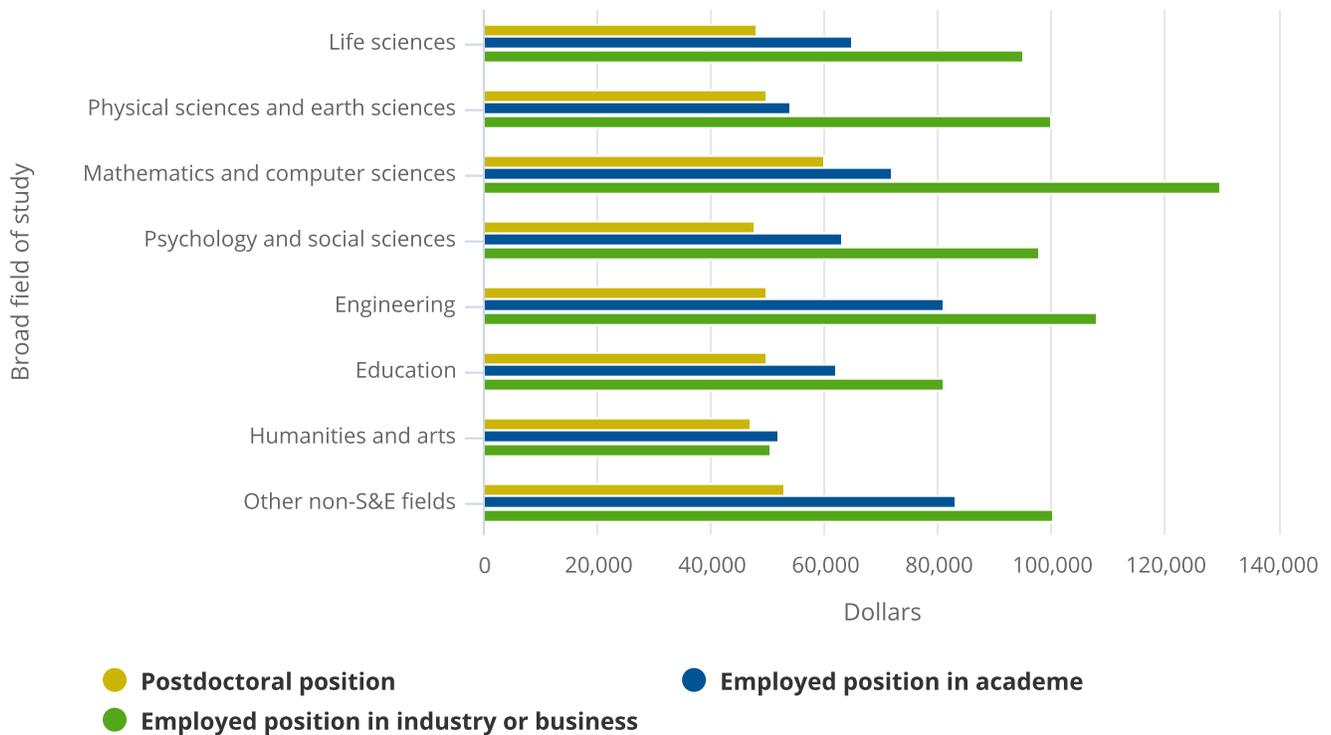

FIGURE 23

Median expected basic annual salary of doctorate recipients with definite commitments in the United States, by position type and broad field of study: 2018

S&E = science and engineering.

Note(s)

Definite commitment refers to a doctorate recipient who is either returning to predoctoral employment or has signed a contract (or otherwise made a definite commitment) for employment, including postdoctoral study, in the coming year and plans to stay in the United States. Other non-S&E fields includes business management and administration. Industry includes all nonacademic sectors, including self-employment, private for-profit and private nonprofit, and government.
